

Private Tour of the Garrick Club Collection
15 Garrick Street London WC2E 9AY
On 11th November at 10.30 am

The Garrick Club is a private members club only accessible with a tour, and it holds a remarkable collection of art works, books and manuscripts representing the history of the theatre which are displayed throughout the building. These include paintings by Johan Zoffany, Thomas Lawrence and Gainsborough Dupont.

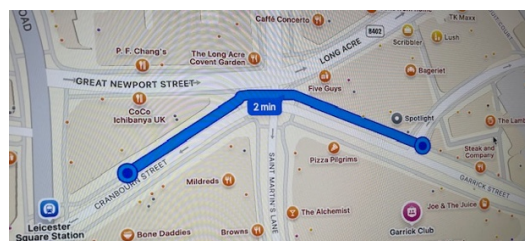

We will be given coffee and biscuits when we arrive and will then be taken on a guided tour of the collections and will have the opportunity to visit this famous club which guards its privacy.

There is a strict dress code which applies to all visitors. Men must wear jackets and collared shirts and women are expected to observe equivalent formal attire. No denim clothing, jeans, trainers or gym shoes are permitted. I understand these rules are strictly applied, and entry may be refused if not complied with. (please see leaflet attached).

The cost is £30.00 (£35.00 for non-members)
