

Pleasures of the Table

A Zoom opportunity to see works depicting food at the Getty Museum, Los Angeles

Thursday 5th December 2024 at 3.30 pm

We have been very fortunate in establishing contact with Lee Rubinstein, Director of Development at the Getty who has already given us two amazing Zoom tours. I am happy to say that Lee is prepared to get up at 6 am LA time, yet again, to talk to us about Food. Clearly something we all know about but it is so much more than sustenance, especially in art. It can be a feast for the eyes. Lee will show us some paintings in the Getty Collection and we will explore how provisions have been portrayed in art through the centuries. There will be some interesting insights into the symbolism of food, and we will look at serving dishes and vessels and how they have been portrayed in art, especially in still life paintings.

We are very fortunate that Lee Rubenstein, our charming and knowledgeable guide will again be leading us, despite the fact she has to get up at a ridiculous hour to accommodate TASHH.

This is an opportunity to see some wonderful works concentrating on food, many of which will probably be new to TASHH members

The tour is at 3.30 pm on Thursday 5th December 2024 and will last approximately one and a quarter hours.

The cost of the visit is £15.00 (£20 non members) per person

You will receive a link to join the tour nearer the time
